Columns

Description:

Winterstone is confident by using a mixture of old and new methods that we are capable of producing columns of the highest quality. Our columns are finished and free of unsightly seem marks, to give you the stone look. Our columns are all individually hand crafted and don't come with noticeable layering from machine compacted columns. The columns that we produce can be made to your specified height therefore no cutting is required on site. All heights are for shafts only in these tables. Winterstone columns can be used for structural and non structural purposes.
